

How The Zucc Stole Online Privacy

By Liam Larsen

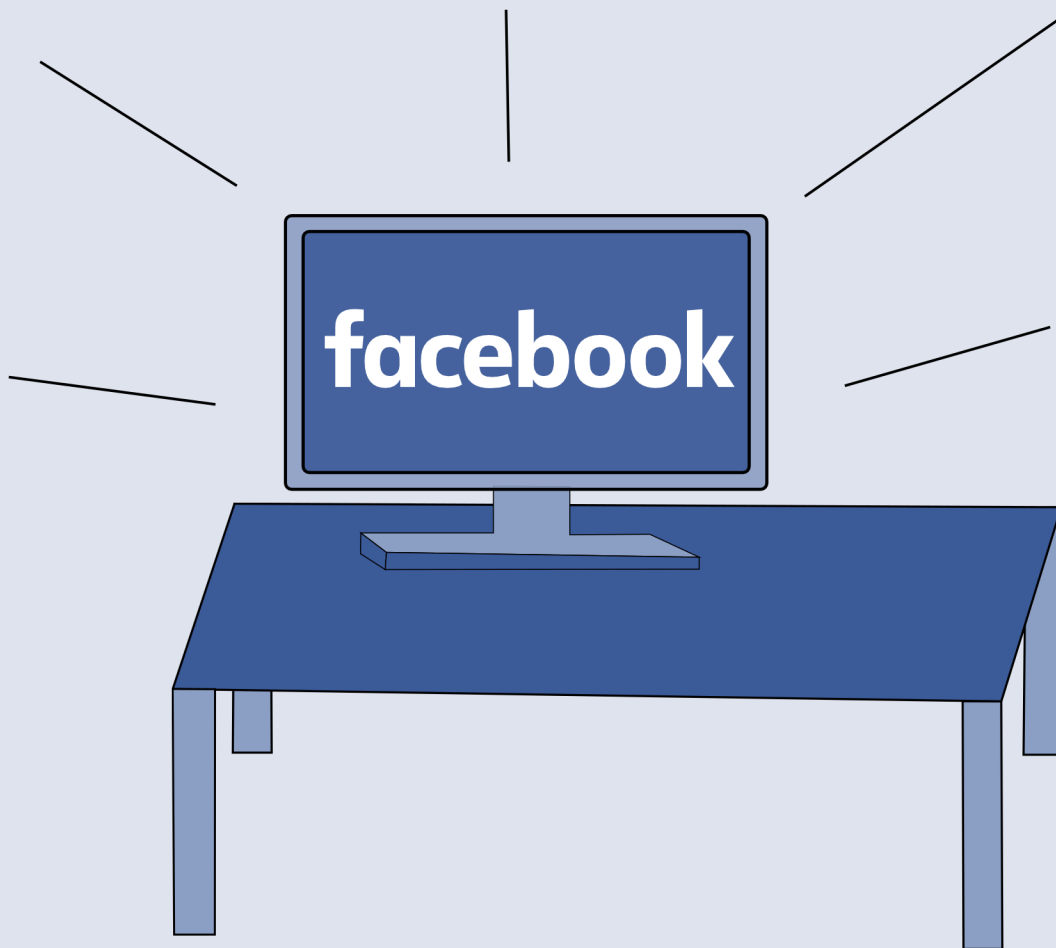

There once was a thing called online privacy.

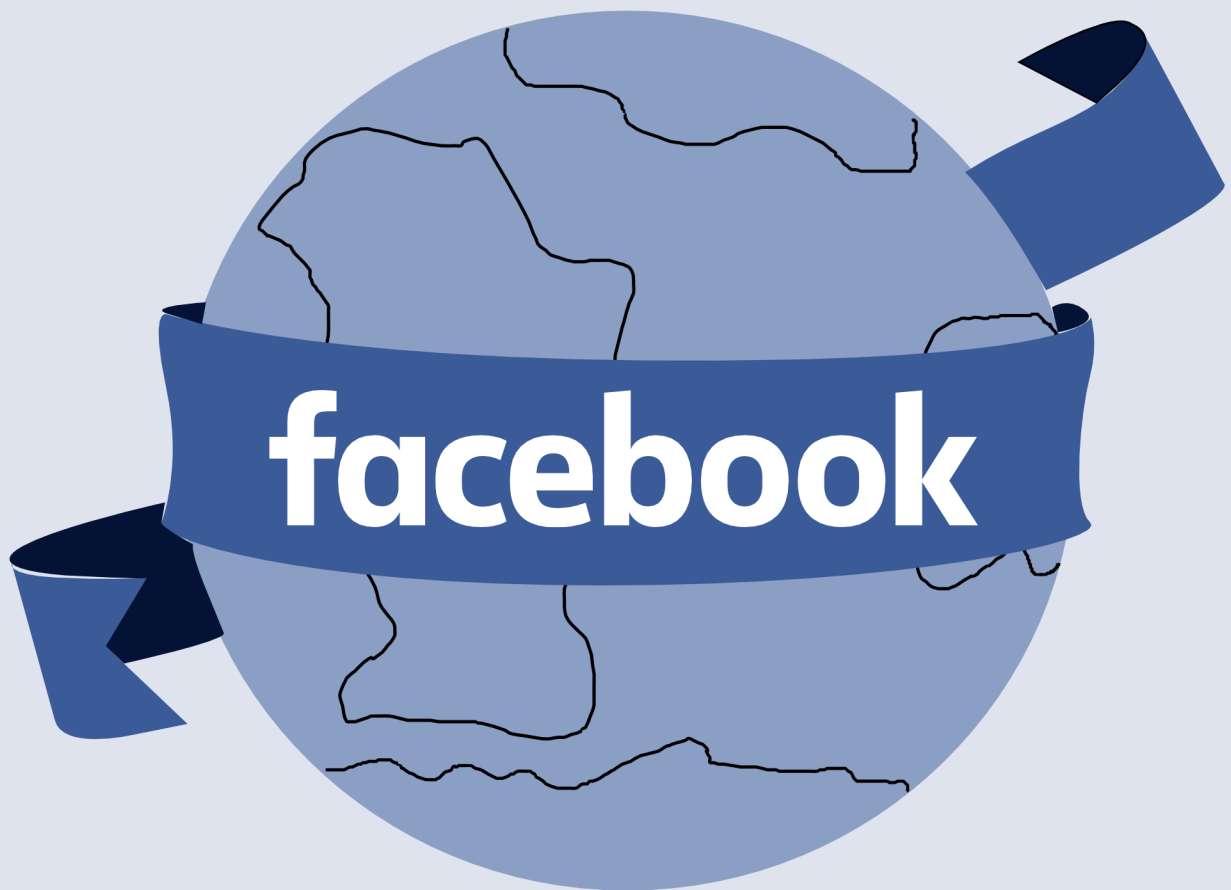

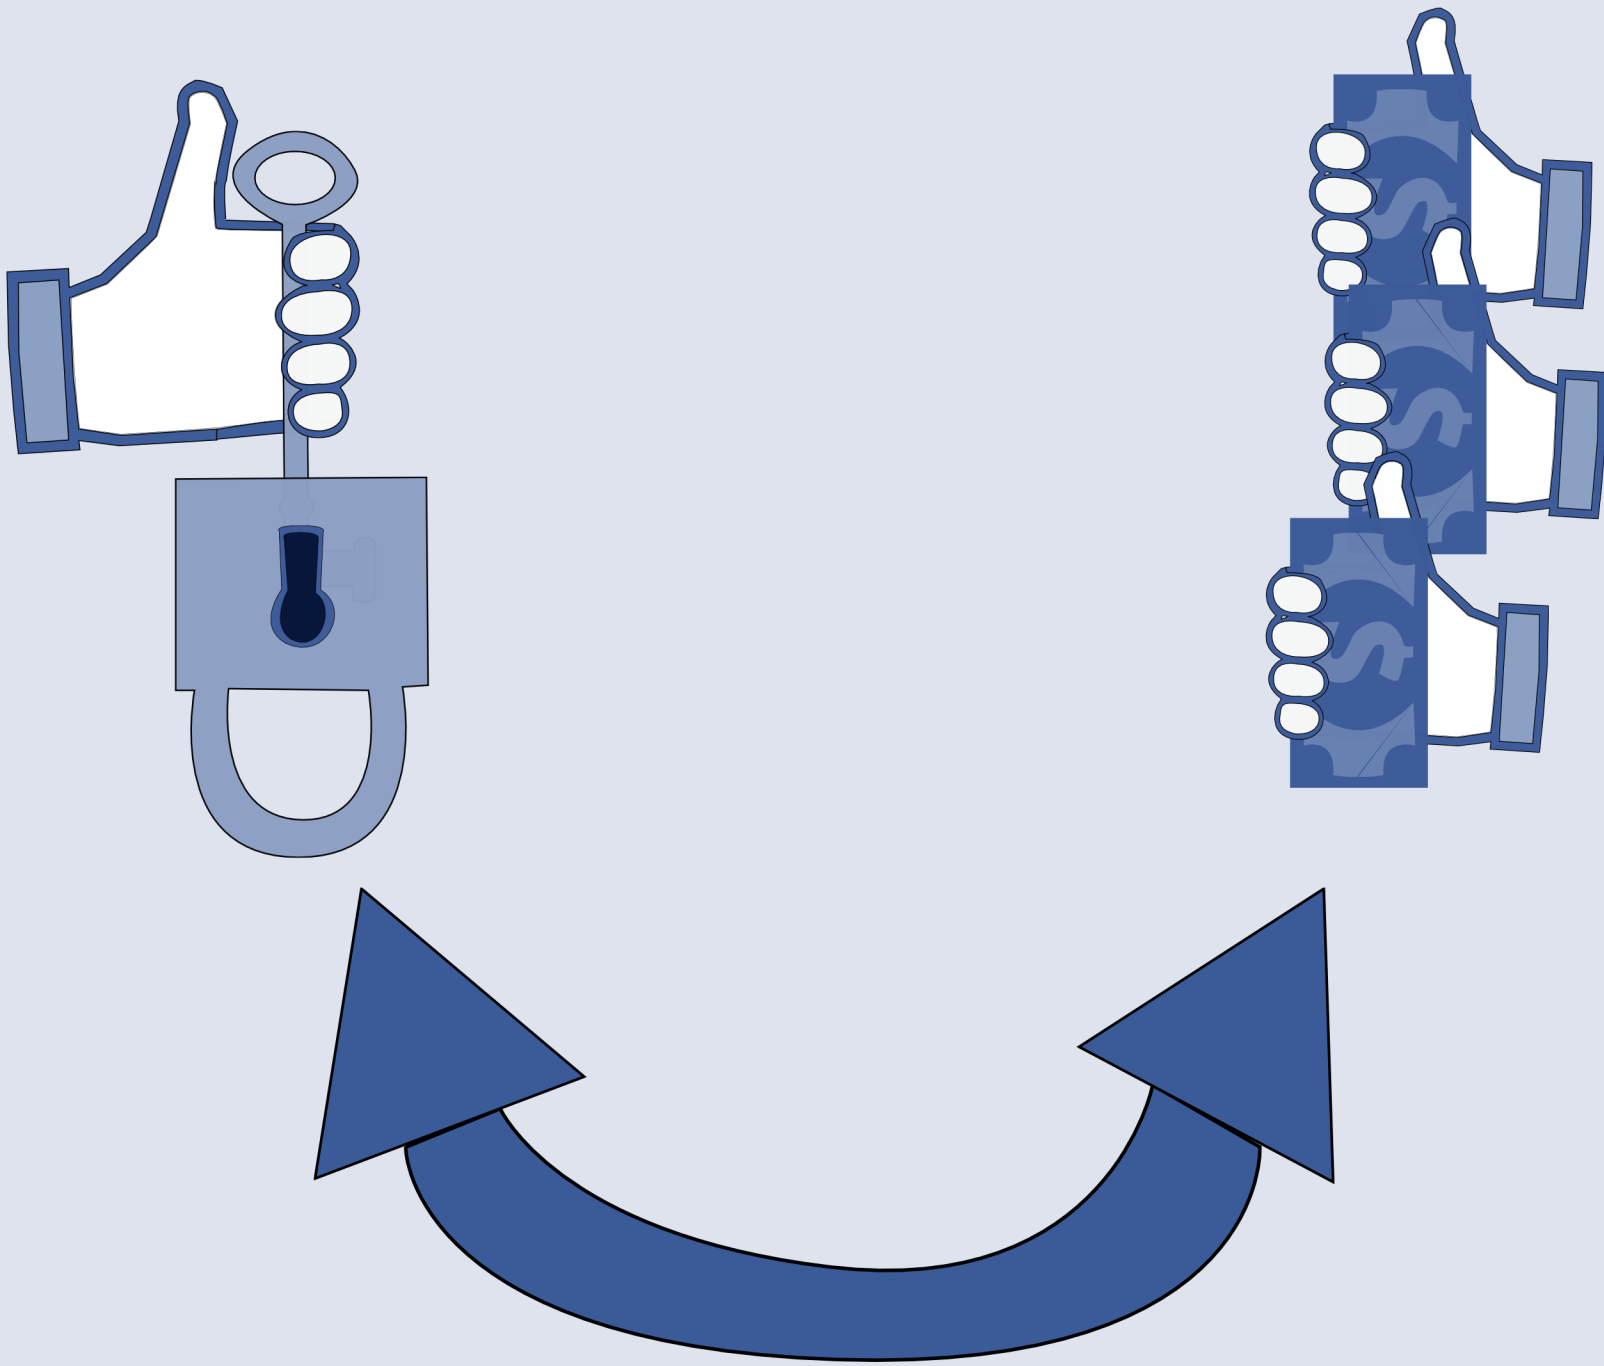

It kept all your secret information safe.

Then one day an alien named Zucc appeared and made a platform for everyone's secrets

He grew his platform worldwide and got hold of many secrets

Zucc realized he could use these secrets to make money

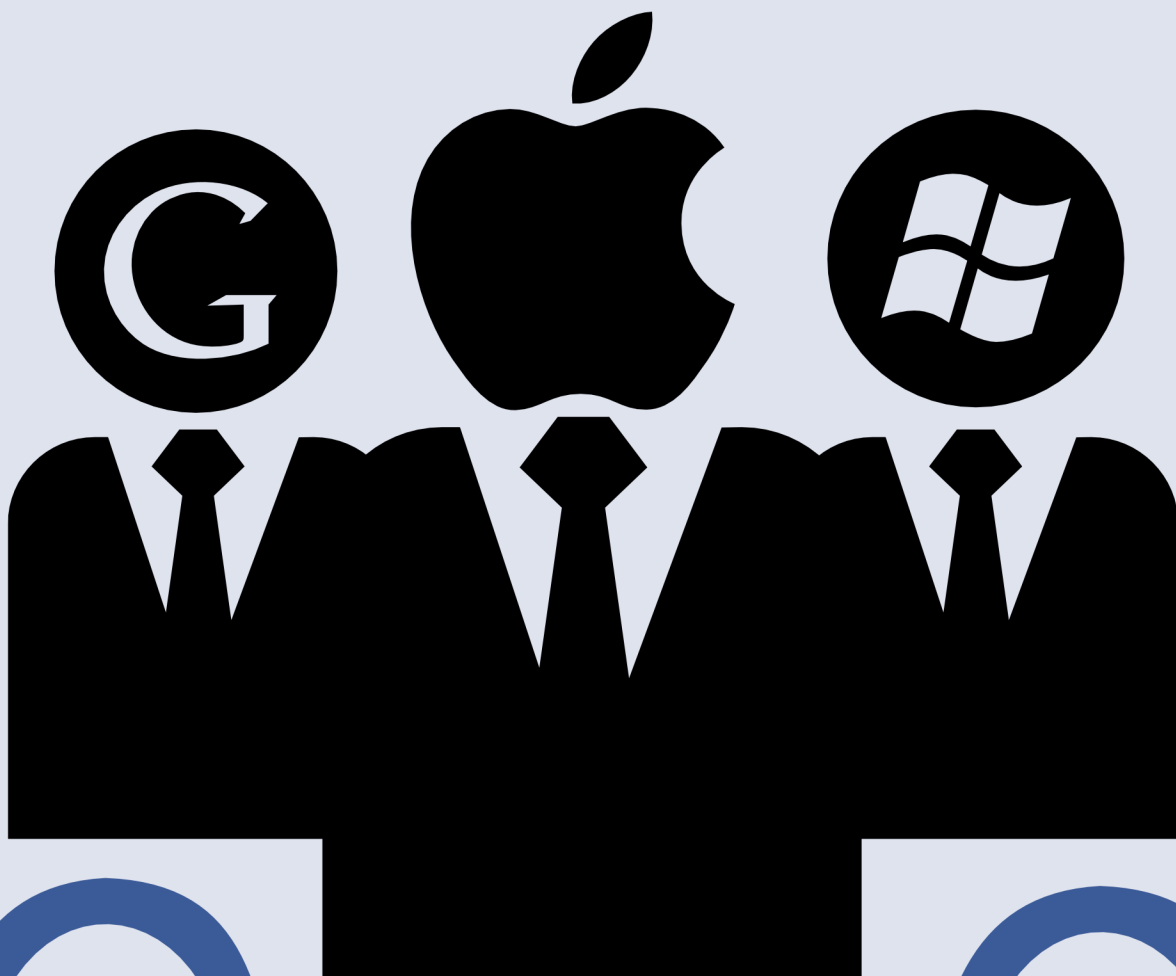

And so he did...

Eventually others saw they too could make money with secrets

So they collected secrets...

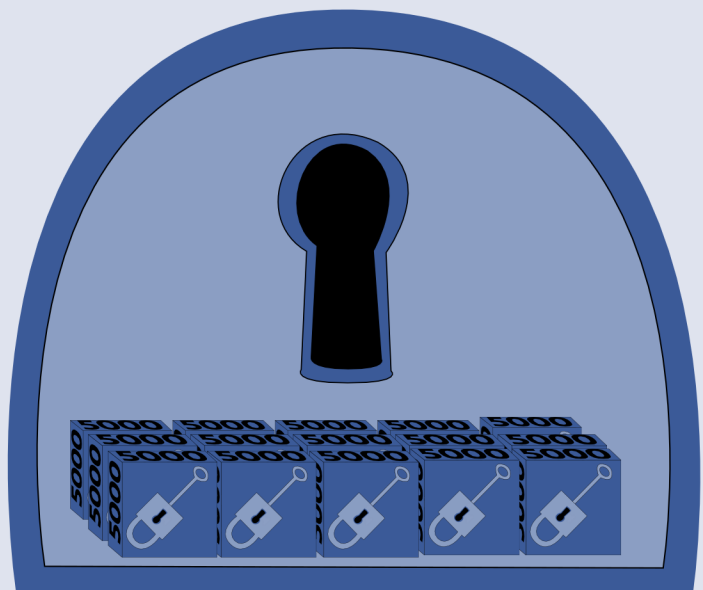

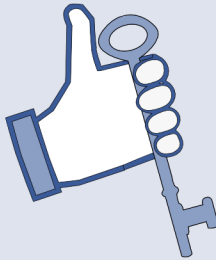

Zucc collected and collected people's secrets

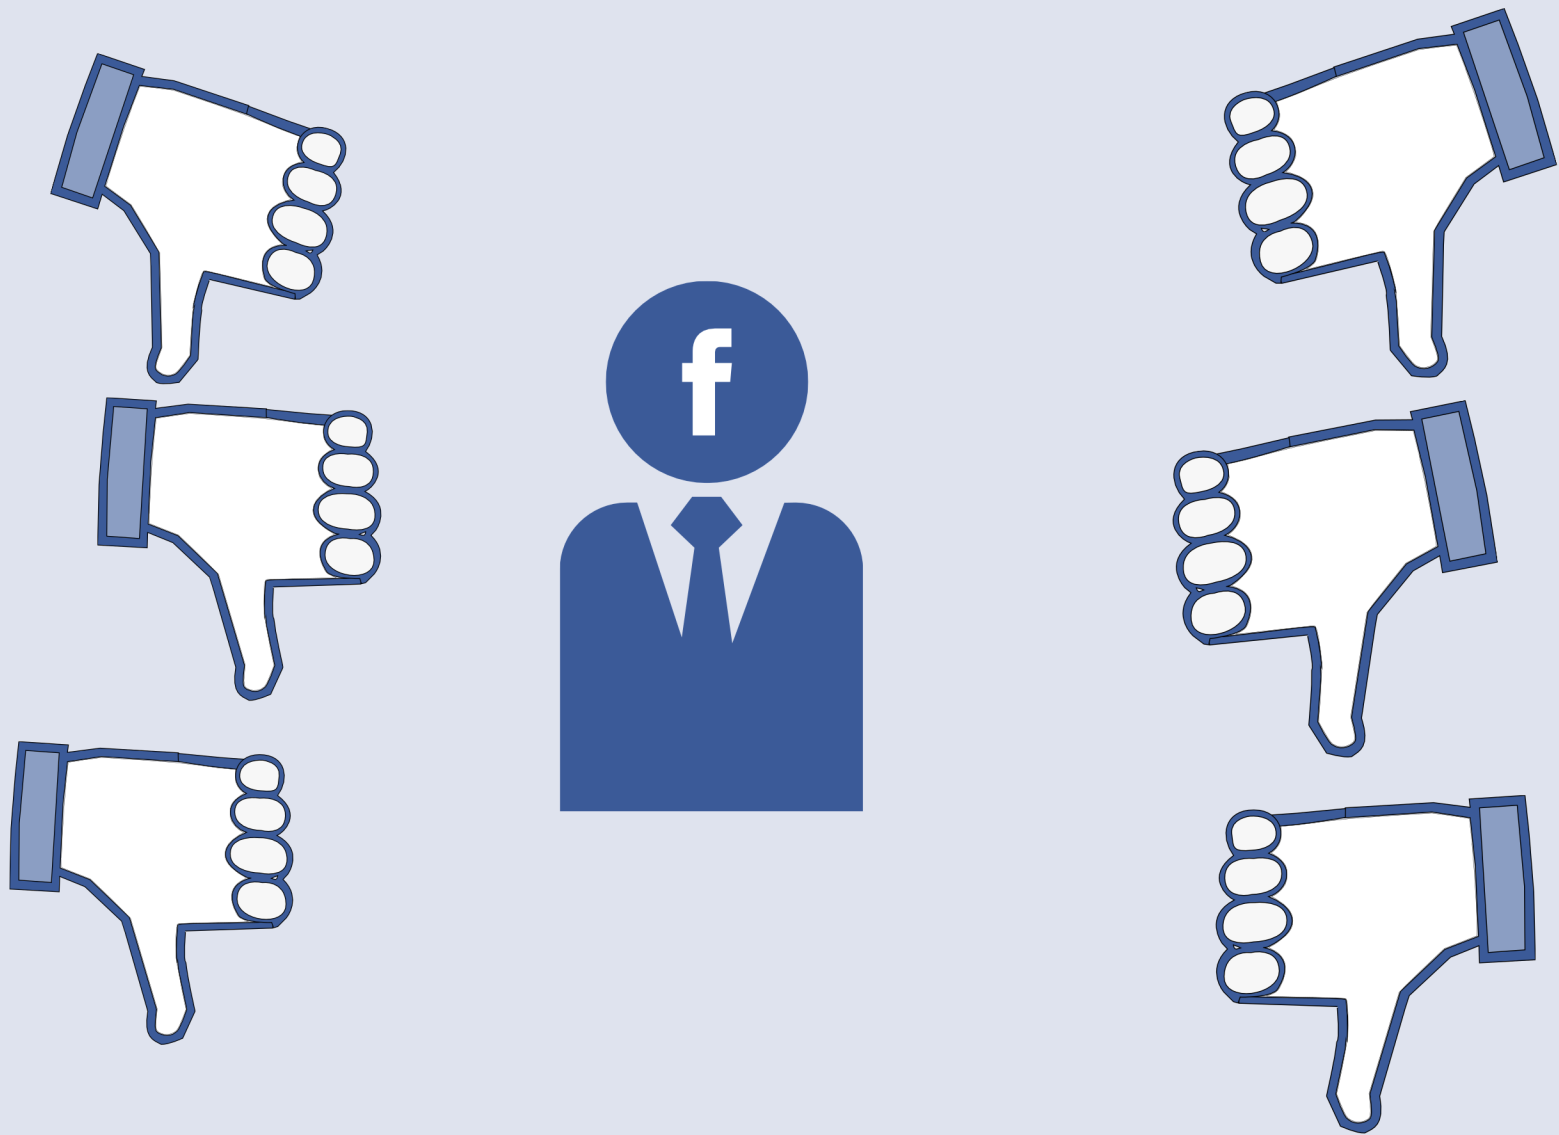

Until one day he made a mistake.

Zucc gave away personal secrets of 50 million people.

People do not like Zucc
